Theatre Technician

A theatre technician must be employed for every function using sound and/or lighting.

Rosebud Secondary College advises booking Evan Knoble to run the lighting and sound requirements for your event. Evan can be contacted also to arrange hire of specialised sound or additional lighting equipment.

If the hirer intends to use their own technician, this person must have first completed an induction into the theatre equipment, including knowledge of returning all equipment to the default theatre settings at the conclusion of the event. There will be a minimum charge of $50 to check that all settings have been returned to default after the event. Additional time ($50 per hour) if required will be deducted from the bond.
